Several preliminary sketches on paper by the artist A.G. Ryman depicting a selection of Neanderthal Men and Women. One of the sketch shows the male and female around a fire with the female holding a child. This design is similar to the issued 10p. value stamp.

The sketches shows several notes made by the artist, one of interest is "Must have Fire --- Gives colour. The bodies are brown with hair. Also shows that they are not monkeys but Pre Historic People."

125th Anniversary of the discovery of the 'GIBRALTAR SKULL'

GIBRALTAR NEANDERTHAL WOMAN

50,000
OLD

THIS GIBRALTAR WOMAN lived in Gibraltar over 50,000 years ago. The face you see depicted above has been reconstructed from a female skull found 125 years ago in an ancient cave-filling at Forbes' Quarry, North Front.

The discovery was announced by Lieutenant Flint, R.A., to Gibraltar Scientific Society on March 3, 1948.

It was the first fossil to be unearthed in Europe of the pre-historic race of NEANDERTHAL MAN, having been excavated eight years before the remains found in the Neander Valley near Düsseldorf, from which the Neanderthal type got its name.

The finding of the Gibraltar 'Neanderthal Woman' together with the Gibraltar 'Neanderthal Child' have contributed to the study of pre-historic man and the evolution of modern man.

Souvenir pull-out supplement prepared by 'Gibraltar WOMAN' for GIBRALTAR PHILATELIC SOCIETY.

Discovery of the GIBRALTAR SKULL

125th Anniversary

THE GIBRALTAR SKULL (Neanderthal Man)

This set of 3 stamps commemorates the 125th Anniversary of the discovery at Forbes Quarry of the famous Gibraltar Skull. Since 1848 skeletons have been found in other places in Europe particularly that found in a cave in the Neanderthal ravine (Neander Valley) near Dusseldorf, Germany in 1856 from which the NEANDERTHAL TYPE got its name.

Gibraltar is proud to have been the first place in Europe in which such a valuable specimen has been discovered and which has contributed so much to the study of the Neanderthal Man and the evolution of mankind.

The "Gibraltar Skull" believed to be over 40,000 years old, is at present kept at the Natural History Museum, London and a plaster cast can be seen in the Gibraltar Museum.
